

Annual Report 2025-26

Message from our President and CEO

To our supporters,

Because of your generosity, advocacy and belief in a better future, this year has been a landmark year in the fight against arthritis. Together, through collaboration and shared determination, we proudly launched Arthritis Action Now: The Plan to End Arthritis in Canada, the first actionable, coordinated national strategy to address Canada's leading cause of disability.

Arthritis Society Canada brought together 21 leading organizations from across Canada's arthritis ecosystem and united more than 100,000 patients, researchers, clinicians and advocates behind one bold commitment: a comprehensive roadmap to prevent, better treat and ultimately cure arthritis.

This achievement belongs to all of us.

For me, this work is deeply personal. I live with osteoarthritis and know firsthand how profoundly arthritis can affect every aspect of life. I joined Arthritis Society Canada because I wanted to help create better outcomes for people affected by this disease. Arthritis Action Now puts us on a path toward achieving that goal and will create new hope for the millions of Canadians who deserve better.

While Arthritis Action Now lays the foundation for long-term change, your support is helping drive meaningful progress today – from advancing research and advocacy to expanding access to information and resources for people living with arthritis nationwide.

Through programs like Arthritis Talks and Arthritis Connections, we reached more than 2,600 communities, including rural and remote areas where specialist care can be difficult to obtain. This year, we also celebrated our 100th Arthritis Talks webinar, a program that has reached more than 465,000 people since its inception.

Whether you donated, volunteered, participated in research or advocated for change: thank you for your commitment to improving the lives of people living with arthritis. We are truly grateful to have you by our side in the fight against arthritis.

As we look ahead, I am filled with optimism. The launch of Arthritis Action Now is not the finish line – it is the beginning of a new chapter. Together, we have built a plan to transform the future of arthritis in Canada. And with your continued partnership, we can bring it to life.

With gratitude,

Trish Barbato
President and CEO

Living Well with Arthritis

Ana's Story

Your generosity helps ensure no one has to face arthritis alone.

For five years, Ana lived with intense pain in her hands, feet, shoulders and hips before finally being diagnosed with psoriatic arthritis. Chronic pain, fatigue and brain fog left her feeling more anxious, less confident and questioning her abilities, and resulted in her difficult decision to leave the career she loved.

Thanks to your support, Ana found a trusted partner in Arthritis Society Canada – one where reliable information, practical resources and a caring community gave her the knowledge and confidence to navigate her arthritis.

Every gift makes stories like Ana's possible. Your donations help fund programs such as Arthritis Talks, Arthritis Line and our online resources, giving thousands of people across Canada access to expert advice, evidence-based information and practical tools so they can take control of their arthritis journey and live well.

Arthritis Society Canada is a voice that lifts me up and keeps me from feeling isolated. Reaching out to [them] has given me hope, connection and information.”

Advancing Research

Your donations help advance research that has the power to change what's possible for people living with arthritis.

From earlier diagnosis and better treatments to improved quality of life, every breakthrough brings us closer to a future where arthritis no longer limits millions of Canadians.

One of the groundbreaking projects you helped fund this year is led by Dr. Nikolas Knowles at the University of Waterloo. He and his team are exploring how advanced imaging and cellular profiling can help detect osteoarthritis (OA) earlier and enable more personalized treatment. This work has the potential to improve outcomes for the more than 4.5 million people in Canada living with OA today.

Because of you, promising arthritis research is moving forward.

Our research is focused on giving people living with arthritis a real advantage in managing their disease. With advanced imaging and molecular insights, we can predict how OA will progress in each patient and tailor treatments that prevent joint damage, reduce pain and improve quality of life.”

Building Community and Support

Fred's Story

Living with arthritis can be isolating, but connection can make all the difference.

For 20-year-old Fred Jack who was diagnosed with arthritis at the age of eight, attending Arthritis Society Canada's summer camp meant more than a week of activities — it was a place where he finally met others who truly understood what it was like to live with arthritis. That experience was made possible by the generosity of donors like you.

Thanks to you, we are creating opportunities for children, youth and adults to connect with others who share similar experiences. Our youth programs, Arthritis Connections, and Community Action Grants help foster welcoming communities where people can build lasting relationships, learn from one another and feel less alone.

“

“At camp, I finally felt like I belonged and no longer needed to explain my struggles. Without it and the many unique individuals that make it such a blast, I don't think I'd be where I am today.”

Advocacy and System Change

Linda's Story

By standing with Arthritis Society Canada, you're helping advance advocacy efforts that influence public policy, strengthen partnerships and brings us closer to a future where everyone can access the care and treatment they deserve.

For Linda Wilhelm, this work is close to her heart. Living with severe rheumatoid arthritis since her teens, she has spent years championing the voices of people living with arthritis. As a contributor to Arthritis Action Now: The Plan to End Arthritis in Canada, Linda is helping shape a future with better outcomes for all.

This year, advocacy took many forms: engaging elected officials, contributing to government consultations, mobilizing volunteers across Canada, shaping policies that affect arthritis care and the launch of Arthritis Action Now.

Advocacy is about turning lived experience into meaningful change. When we work together, we can build a healthcare system that better meets the needs of everyone living with arthritis.”

Our Generous Donors

Niam's Story

Supporters like Dolly Kamdar and her son Niam, who turned their family's experience with arthritis into action.

Niam had a very strong bond with his grandmother, Chandrika, who lived with rheumatoid arthritis and faced increasing difficulties with everyday tasks. After her passing in 2022 from arthritis-related complications, Niam was inspired to launch a fundraiser for Arthritis Society Canada in honour of her memory and help prevent others from experiencing the same suffering.

Through their generosity and commitment, Niam and Dolly are carrying Chandrika's legacy forward, turning love and loss into meaningful change for others living with arthritis.

“I don't want people to suffer like my grandma did, and I don't want other kids to lose a grandparent like I lost mine.”

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

$25,279,784 gifted by 92,668 donors

Behind every step forward is a community of generous supporters committed to creating a better future for people living with arthritis.

We are honoured to recognize the individuals, families and organizations who made gifts or pledges of $2,500 or more between April 1, 2025, and March 31, 2026. Your generosity is advancing research, expanding programs, strengthening advocacy and helping people across Canada live well with arthritis.

We also gratefully acknowledge the 22 individuals and families who have chosen to leave a lasting legacy through a planned gift. Their vision and compassion will help ensure future generations benefit from continued progress toward a pain-free future.
